Newsletter

Dear Parents & Carers,
We have survived a half term of Home Learning and Critical Worker provision. We know it has been hard work for so many of you juggling work, home learning and family needs, but thank you so much. We have loved seeing the children engage in learning at school, via Evidence Me and on Teams. The children have been brilliant, and they are a real credit to you. I would also like to thank our critical workers for their work on the frontline during the pandemic. Every single member of staff has worked so hard and I hope they have a well-deserved rest during half term. Stay Safe,
Mrs Holmes

Evidence Me

We recently launched Evidence Me allowing parents to share learning and for teachers to respond with feedback. We have been very impressed with your response to this and have loved seeing what the children get up to.

Please can we ask parents to be mindful that teachers are in class every day and are limited to two feedback sessions a week. Please try to send no more than 3 posts a day and ensure that they are related to the timetable. Staff will comment on one post for each child per feedback session.

Interactive Sessions

After half term we will be moving to 4 interactive sessions each week. These will be at the same time each week and we will no longer be sending out weekly letters unless timings change.

World Book Day - 4th March 2021

Due to the uncertainty around more children returning to school and the current situation we will not be dressing up for World Book Day this year. Instead, we will have a book themed day in school and online, we would like children to turn a potato into a book character. Craft packs of googly eyes, paper and craft items will be available for collection. Please contact us by 24th February to order a pack via reception@overdale-inf.leicester.sch.uk. These will be available for collection on 25th February.
